PROVERBS 3:6-7

As Christians, you and I wonder, almost every day of our lives, what God's will is; not always in so many words but, in effect, it has become a way of life.

When you need to make a decision or are in doubt about something, it is important to you to act according to God's will, but you don't quite know how to make sure what God's will is.

The quest for God's will is as old as humanity itself. Already in paradise we learn a few important things about God's will. The paradise inhabitants had an uncomplicated relationship with God. They lived in such perfect harmony with God that they felt God's heartbeat. Adam and Eve never wondered what the right thing was to do. They knew because they knew God. And so can you.
